MedGlobal

DONOR PROSPECTUS

OVERVIEW

MedGlobal, non-profit, charitable (501 c3) organization registered in the USA that provides free healthcare to the refugees, internally displaced people, victims of natural and man-made disasters and indigent populations in developing countries. Launched in August 2017, MedGlobal was established by diverse doctors, nurses and medics experienced in humanitarian medicine and emergency services to address the health needs of the most vulnerable across the world. The founders believe in creating a world without healthcare disparity. MedGlobal volunteers apply medical care based on humanitarian principles and best medical practices.

MedGlobal's culturally diverse teams respond to the world's humanitarian crises by partnering with local communities to provide innovative, sustainable and dignified healthcare. MedGlobal deploys medical missions to provide life-saving and life-sustaining emergency medical services to the most vulnerable individuals impacted by crises whether it is natural disaster, wars, displacement due to conflict, loss of resources, disease outbreak, poverty, or insufficient healthcare.

As of today, MedGlobal has deployed so far 55 medical missions since its inception in 7 countries around the globe: Bangladesh, Yemen, Syria, Lebanon, Greece, Puerto Rico, and Sierra Leone. New medical missions are planned to Syria, North Iraq, Jordan, Palestine, Venezuela, Haiti, Ethiopia and other places based on need. Our medical volunteers are from USA, UK, Europe, Australian, Latin America, Asia and the Gulf States.

Each medical mission includes a combination of diverse doctors, nurses, pharmacists and psychiatrists who travel from their country to the region in need. They bring their medications, medical supplies and equipment and provide free healthcare, surgeries, mental health, training, education to the affected population in partnership with local NGOs and health authorities. Average mission time is 7 days.

MedGlobal staff provides recruitment, vetting, orientation, logistical support, management, supplies, medications, clinic space, registration, advocacy, media, reports and funding to these missions.

NEED FOR CHANGE

In 2018 conflict remains the main driver of humanitarian needs, while natural disasters continue to cause many people to need emergency aid including food insecurity, vulnerability, loss of livelihoods, and disease outbreaks. In a number of countries where MedGlobal operates, humanitarian needs will remain at exceptionally high levels e.g. Syria and the surrounding countries, Yemen and Bangladesh.

- It is estimated that more than 135.7 million people across the world need humanitarian assistance and protection of which approximately 75 million are in need of health care services in 2018.
- There were 1,112 attacks on health facilities or transportation resulting in at least 1,365 deaths in 14 countries or territories with the highest attacks taking place in Syria 2016 through 2018 contributing to depriving people of urgently needed care and access to basic health services.
- Globally, there are an estimated 65 million people forcibly displaced from their homes as a result of persecution, conflict, or generalized violence as of beginning of 2018. This rapid increase of population movement has important public health implications, and therefore requires an adequate response to address health needs of refugees.

OPPORTUNITY FOR IMPACT

MedGlobal's ultimate goal is to deliver quality care to the most vulnerable around the world through deploying medical missions of experienced healthcare professionals to provide free healthcare to the refugees, displaced people, indigent populations and victims of the disasters and conflicts.

MedGlobal have identified four change pathways to create a broader impact on the health outcomes of individuals, communities and countries:

- collaborating with local stakeholders & communities to create change and improve provision of services.
- building the capacity of local workers by mentoring, technical trainings & sharing best practices.
- deploying relevant technology and innovation to scale up its impact.
- advocating for policy changes and raising awareness on relevant humanitarian health issues.

MedGlobal aims to provide quality medical care to refugees and displaced people in crisis areas around the globe through deploying diverse and effective medical missions which partner with local NGOs in affected areas. Since its inception, MedGlobal has:

- Provided free healthcare to approximately 30,000 refugees and patients
- Performed 180+ surgeries
- Recruited 197 volunteers with estimated $880,000 volunteer hours
- Deployed more than 55 missions to 7 countries

In Syria, which is the worst humanitarian crisis in the world since WWI, MedGlobal supported hospitals, clinics, mobile clinics, medications, medical supplies, medical equipment and ambulances in Ghouta, Daraa, Qunaitera, Idlib, Aleppo and Northern Syria.

In Yemen, designated the worst humanitarian crisis by the UN in terms of people affected, MedGlobal sent so far 3 medical and surgical missions, containers of medications for chronic diseases and cancer, medical equipment and consumables to hospitals in Marib and Eden, cholera treatment centers, grain distribution and training.

In Rohingya crisis, MedGlobal established clinics in the largest refugee camp in Bangladesh that provided treatment to more than 27,000 Rohingya refugees so far administered by 180 medical volunteers.
